AN EVANCELICAL THIEF—A FELLOW STRAIR A BIBLE FROM A CHURCH PULFIT.—It is not often that we are called upon to record the robbery of a church; for no matter how far thieves may have lost their regard for scolety, they seem to have retained their respect for the sanctuary. Bome scamp, however, a few days ago, entered the High-street Baptist Church and stole therefrom the pulpit Bible. He probably took that which he most needed, and may possibly learn from its pages that he has been guilty of a fiagrant violation of one of its most important commandments. His code of morals may be much improved by a perusal of the article he has stolen; but as the Trustees of the Church are desirous of again becoming possessed of the lost copy, they offer to present another to the thief if he will return it. FATAL ACCIDENT-AN ATTACHEE OF AN EX-PRESS COMPANY FOUND WITH HIS NECK BECKEN.
COTOMEr Carey was yesterday morning called upon to hold an inquest on the body of a man named George Kells, who was found at the foot of a flight of stairs leading from the sidewalk to the area under the building, on Third-street, occupied by Adams's Express Jompany.

The evidence taken before the jury failed to throw any light directly upon the death of Mr. K., but the circumstances led them to conclude that it was accidental. Although a man of exceedingly temperate habits, he had dined with some friends on Monday, and became partially inebriated, and some time during the evening, it is thought, in passing down the stairs, fell, and alighting upon his head, caused the fracture of the spinal column head, caused the fracture of the spinal column which produced his death.

One of the porters about the establishment stumbled over the body about ten o'clock, but supposing, in the dark, that it was a deer, which are often placed there, paid no attention to it, until yesterday mothing, when the body was discovered. This is the only circumstance from which they were able to judge of the time of the accident, which must have occurred early in the evening.

occurred early in the evening.

The deceased was about thirty-five years of age, and has a wife and two children residing ing Steubenville, in this State. He had been for a considerable length of time connected with Adams's Express Company as a messenger, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

SENTENCE OF DEATH PASSED UPON JAMES BURNS .- James Burns was taken into the Court-Buzns.—James Burns was taken into the Courtroom yesterday for the purpose of receiving his sentence, having been for the second time found guilty of murder. Judge Mallon, overruled the motion for a new trial, stating that aithough it would have been more satisfactory to the Court if the grade of homicide had been made more clear, still the prisoner had been convicted by two juries, and he was satisfied that the verdict was a righteous one.

When asked what he had to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon him, the prisoner said that he did not commit the murder. The Court then sentenced Burns to be imprisoned in the Jail of Hamilton County until Priday, the 30th day of March next, and

The prisoner heard the sentence without any smotion, and his face was wholly expressionless when it was pronounced. He was evidently prepared for and received it with an indifference that seemed almost stoical.

which to speak of the play as we dould wish, and instafore are compelled to confine ourself to generalities.

Of the representation of "Enck" by Viola Crocker, whom we have one of twice confounded with Bortha Stanley, we have before spoken, but hardly as she deserved. It is a protesh protrayal of varied beauty, which every one should witness. Her poses are the quintessence of classic grace and azimazed leveliness, and she seems to be a kind of petite embodiment of pointing, postry and statuary, while the intelligent ight that beams from her eyes, and the intelligent ight that beams from her eyes, and the intelligent ight that beams from her eyes, and the intelligent ight for the from the play upon her features, produced by the true Promethean fire from Heaven—genius—appear to reade her, for reality, fit for what the illusion would induce us to believe the was—the laughting Mercury of a facty Hing.

Miss Proctor's "Tisnia" is admirable, Mrs. Conway's "Oberon" excellent, fir. Davidge's "Bottom" capital, and The Minsterman Mont's Daras —save the black guiters that some of the Amasons wear—as produced at the Gepra-house, a brilliant representation of a magnificent creation. It will be repeated this evening.

Wood's Theater.—The new local play, en-ittled Ten Onto Grana, drew quite a large audience to this cosy establishment last night, and is not upon the stage in the unual excellent style of the manager. The Oriental spectacle, Buts Hangu, has also re-ceived the greatest attention, and the scenery and properties are worthy the place and the play. Both these pieces will be repeated this evening, and de-serve the continued success which they have thus far NATIONAL THEATER. - The audience NATIONAL THEATER. — The audience last night at the National was quite large and intellectual. The new play, Mresalliance, was performed better than previously, and the character of "Leonic Arnauld" is admirably calculated to show Miss Davenport's wonderful power and finish. We do not remember to have witnessed, since we last saw this lady, so perfectly chaste and polished an impersonation as that of the "Viscountess D'Orby," particularly the closing scene of the fourth act. It is so purely artistic as to be natural, which, after all, is the highest act. The play will be presented this evening and followed by the farce of Bersy Baker.

SMITH & NIXON'S HALL.—Quite a large au-dience assembled at Smith & Nixon's Hall last night, to hear the child-wonder, Mary McVicker. She is really a phenomenon, and her imitations, roles, manner and execution are all in their way excellent. She will appear to-night for the last time.

SENTENCE OF EXECUTION PASSED ON JAMES

SENTENCE OF EXECUTION PASSEED ON JAMES BURNS.—James Burns was brought up for sentence yesterday, upon conviction of murder in the first cegree. The prisoner looked greatly emaciated. Judge Mallon overruled the motion for a new trial. The prisoner was then asked if he had anything to say why the sentence of the law should not be passed upon him.

Burns replied—I have nothing to say, except that I am notgality. I'll say that to the last.

The Court then proceeded to pass sentence: "The sentence is that yon be imprisoned in the Jailof Hamilton County until Friday, the 30th day of March next, and that on that day, between the hours of 10 and 12 octock, you be taken by the Sheriff of Hamilton County to the place of execution, and there the hanged by the neck until you are dead."

The prisoner then resumed his seat. He seemed prepared for the result, and did not at that time betray any signs of emotion. In a few moments afterward he was taken back to jail.

SENTENCE OF IMPRISONERS FOR LUFE ON WM. BECKLEY.—Upon the motion for a new trial in the case. of Wm. Beckley, convicted of murder in the second degree, a large number of affidavits were presented—among them one purporting to have been made by the principal witness, Jenny Bowers, in which the affiant stated that the retailmony on the trial was false.

Jenny Bowers horself appeared in proving persona.

which the affiant stated that her tastimony on the trial was false.

Jenny Bowers herself appeared in propris persons, and denied that she had ever made this affidavit.

An affidavit of Amanda Lindsay, fixing the shooting on another party, was also read. A second affidavit was made by the same party, contradicting the first.

Judge Mallon overruled the motion for a new trial. The prisoner, when asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed, replied that he did not suppose it would be necessary to say anything.

did not suppose it would be necessary to say anything.

Judge Mallon then proceeded: "The sentence of the Court is that you be imprisoned in the Penitentary, in the State of Ohio, during the remainder of your life, be kept at hard labor, and that you pay the costs of this prosecution."

The following prisoners were sentenced by Judge Collins: John Hannegan and James Ford, robbery, five years each in the Penitentiary; James Norton, assault with intent to commit a rape, three years; Baldwin Smith, assault and battery, ten days in the Jail and $100 fine; George Washington, petty larceny, one day in jail. On a second case Judge Mallon sentenced the prisoner to three months in Jail.

COVINGTON NEWS.

CITY COUNCIL.—On account of the time consumed in dicussing the street railroad question at the two previous hierifus, a great amount of unimportant business had accumulated, and the approximating close of the year rundered it nacessary that is should be disposed of immediately. For this reason the consideration of the street railroad ordinance was 1-mpor rily postponed. The following was the principal business transacted:

principal business transacted:

Mr. Cambron offered a resolution which was unanimously adopted, asking the Legislature to release the Attorney of Kenton County from attending County forces attending to mation the City of Covington.

On mation the City of Covington to the city offers to all portions holding claims against the city, wherever allowed.

An ordinance was passed providing for the holding of the annual election on the first Saturday of January 1921.

harr next.

A communication from the Grand Jury of the County, now in session, was received, recentmending the City Council to provide for a chain-gang. Reserved to a select commutate of three. The Council refused to remit or reduce the fine re-cently imposed upon Captain Kirtley, for assault and battery. Adjourned.

FURTHER INVESTIGATION OF THE RECENT INFARTICEE.—Our authorities are exhibiting alaudable determination to secertain the mother of the infant recently left at the door of Mr. Keith, on Garrardairect. Yesterday the body was disintered, to obtain the opinion of competent physicians whether it perished from cold, or was aiready dead before neing placed there, and also determine the cause of its death, should the latter hypothesis be correct. A partial examination was made yesterday, and it will be concluded this morning. Certain parties are conrient that its maternity can be discovered, and they are determined to bring the guilty party or parties to justice.

CIRCUIT COURT. Several small crimina cases were tried in the forence, all of which were dismissed. In the afternoon Pat, Buffer plead guilty to a charge of petit larceny, having stole a piece of timber, and was sentenced to receive four lashes on the bare back, and Thomas Figley, charged with burglary, was convicted and sentenced to a term in the penitentiary.

LECTURE.—The second lecture in the course, for the benefit of Trinity Church, was delivered at Odd Fellows' Hell, last night, by Rev. Kingston Goddard. His subject, "Christian Manliness," was ably discussed, and listened to with great attention by a large audience. POLICE COURT.—Three persons were fined $3, each, by Mayor Foley yesterds v morning, for having too high an appreciation of their duties on Ohristmas.
